US Dollar R14.69

The US Dollar was exceptionally weak this quarter. This was in part a reaction to the extra fiscal spending expected to result from the Biden / Democratic election victory, as well as some selling of the US dollar in favour of riskier alternatives, such as EM currencies.

British Pound R20.08

Brexit negotiations more or less went to the wire, but the two sides announced that they had finally reached an agreement on their future relationship. The pound was stronger against most major currencies on the back of the Brexit deal with the EU.

Euro R17.97

Economic data in Europe generally came through on the weak side as the restrictions required to combat the second wave of Covid-19 inevitably constrained activity. This impacted the euro negatively.

Domestic performance drivers

Highlights

- Q4 GDP figures of +13,5% (q-o-q, not annualised) surprised to the upside as activity rebounded in lockstep with the reopening of the economy and progressive easing of lockdowns. While base effects played a meaningful role, significant exports provided a strong tailwind for the rebound and drove the current account to record the highest quarterly surplus in decades.
- President Ramaphosa delivered the ratified Economic Reconstruction and Recovery Plan in October, extending the COVID grant by another three months and signalling priorities for the Medium Term Budget Policy Statement (MTBPS).

Low points

- Credit ratings agencies Moody's and Fitch downgraded South Africa's credit rating further down the sub investment grade scale in November, while also maintaining a negative outlook.
- Enter 2021 and the country battles increasing COVID-19 cases and hospitalisations again, as a new variant of the virus proves more contagious. A vaccine procurement process is underway but won't be able to help with the more immediate challenges.

Global performance drivers

Highlights

- The fourth quarter was characterised by improved animal spirits as US election results were embraced, while vaccine approvals and rollouts drove expectations of reopening economies and improved activity in 2021.
- Hopes for economic recovery also provided a shot in the arm for commodities, as the Bloomberg Commodities Index rose +10.2%, led by Agriculture (+21.4%) and Crude Oil (+18.2%).
- The US Congress finally approved the US$900 billion economic relief package designed to help small businesses and low income families bridge the gap through to when the economy can return to a more normal footing.

Low points

- Countries across the globe tried to combat the progression of the coronavirus with stricter lockdown measures as winter weather, lockdown fatigue and seasonal celebrations led to rising caseloads.
- Economic data in the US and Europe generally came through on the weak side as the restrictions required to combat the second wave of Covid inevitably constrained activity through the quarter.

Positive contributors this quarter

- Domestically exposed sectors including banks, property and apparel retailers outperformed as did platinum group metal and diversified miners. FirstRand (Q4 +24%) and Standard Bank (Q4 +18%) were amongst the top performers.
- The domestic bond market performed well this quarter as foreign investors became net buyers again, tempted by SA's relatively high yields. Prudential and Coronation in particular benefitted from the good performance from this asset class.
- The domestic property sector turned in November and continued to claw back performance in December, ending the quarter up 22%. The passive multi-asset building block, Nedgroup Investments Core Diversified, and the Nedgroup Investments Balanced fund were the best positioned for this turnaround.

Detractors this quarter

- The exceptional weakness of the US dollar over the quarter – and as a result rand strength (Q4 +14%) – detracted from the direct offshore exposure, as well as the rand hedged stocks held within the domestic equity portion, like Prosus (Q4 +4%).
- British American Tobacco (Q4 -8%) continues to trade at multi-decade low valuation levels, despite its very constructive progress regarding reducing its debt levels as well as further good work on their broad ESG ambitions where they already score very well.
- Gold companies underperformed over the last quarter of 2020, despite a very strong run over the first three quarters. Harmony Gold (Q4 -20%; 2020 +40%) and AngloGold Ashanti (Q4 -21%; 2020 +9%) were two of the largest detractors for the fund in this sector.

Nedgroup Collective Investments (RF) Proprietary Limited is the company that is authorised in terms of the Collective Investment Schemes Control Act to administer the Nedgroup Investments unit trust portfolios. Unit trusts are generally medium to long term investments. The value of your investment may go down as well as up. Past performance is not necessarily a guide to future performance. Nedgroup Investments does not guarantee the performance of your investment and even if forecasts about the expected future performance are included you will carry the investment and market risk, which includes the possibility of losing capital. Unit trusts are traded at ruling prices and can engage in borrowing and scrip lending. Certain unit trust funds may be subject to currency fluctuations due to its international exposure. Nedgroup Investments has the right to close unit trust funds to new investors in order to manage it more efficiently. A schedule of fees and charges and details of our awards are available on request from Nedgroup Investments. A fund of funds may only invest in other unit trust funds, that levy their own charges, which could result in a higher fee structure. Nedgroup Investment Advisors (Pty) Ltd (the 'Investment Manager') an authorised as a financial services provider under the Financial Advisory and Intermediary Services Act (FSP No. 1652), is the appointed Investment Manager of the Management Company.

Certain Nedgroup Investments unit trust portfolios include international assets, whereby a change in the exchange rates may cause the value of those investments to rise and fall. Excessive withdrawals from the portfolio may place the portfolio under liquidity pressures and that in such circumstances a process of ring-fencing of withdrawal instructions and managed pay-outs over time may be followed.
