Market Commentary

The rand remains vulnerable to moderating global trade prospects and a firmer U.S. dollar. To this end, domestic monetary authorities are compelled to stay at pace with global policy trends thus to reduce elevated risks of imported price inflation.

Following the May CPI shock and the Fed's decision to hike its policy rate by 75-bps, the domestic Forward Rate Agreement (FRA) market began pricing in a high likelihood of a 75-bps hike in the repo rate at the next MPC meeting. The implied policy rates have also steadily increased in the last 12-months.

In the SA money market, the 3-m JIBAR rate rose 11.6 bps m/m to end the month at 5.0%, while the 12-m JIBAR rate rose 61.7 bps m/m to 7.4%. In the last 12 months, these rates increased by 132 bps and 265 bps, respectively.

Steep interest rate hikes are well poised to tip the economy into a recession, more so when output remains fundamentally weak. And in the absence of costs associated with trade wars and supply-side rigidities, elevated inflation pressures appear less likely to be maintained by a moderating macroeconomic backdrop.

Against this setting, our views are skewed towards a more gradual hiking cycle in the interest of sustainable economic recovery. Quantitatively, our short-term interest rate expectations remain aligned with those of the implied policy path of the SARB's QPM, and less hawkish versus the FRA market.

Portfolio Positioning

Credit / The Fund's counterparty exposure at month-end is as follows:

Issuer	% Market Value
The Republic of South Africa	23.57%
HSBC Bank Plc - Johannesburg Branch	18.25%
China Construction Bank	17.49%
Standard Chartered Johannesburg Branch	17.36%
BNP Paribas Issuance B.V.	16.58%
Deutsche Bank AG	4.36%
Bank of China	2.71%
Standard Bank of South Africa Limited	-0.32%

The portfolio was well invested across all foreign banks with local branches as well as having exposure to AAA rated locally listed foreign entities. The fund is within its mandate limits, with investments in high quality investment grade issuers.

The table below represents the issuer credit rating breakdown as at 30 June 2022:

Credit Profile	%
AAA	100%

Instrument holding | Exposure to various instrument types:

Instrument Type	% of Fund
Cash and Call	24%
Fixed Deposit	20%
Floating Rate Note	17%
Structured Deposit	16%
Treasury Bill	24%

In line with our long-standing philosophy of immunising our portfolios against interest rate risk by including a high level of floating rate assets, the fund holds a large number of floating rate notes issued by banks. The general nature and quality of the assets also provide a high degree of liquidity to the Fund whilst still providing excellent yields.

Maturity Profile and Duration |

The maturity profile (term to final maturity) of the assets in the fund at month-end was as follows:

Band Name	Market Value	Weight
0-30 DAYS	467,887,615.57	41%
31-60 DAYS	172,190,458.08	15%
61-90 DAYS	50,133,321.93	4%
91-120 DAYS	279,027,754.09	24%
121-150 DAYS	103,936,995.83	9%
181-270 DAYS	70,037,711.25	6%
270-365 DAYS	9,349,085.61	1%

The fund had a high level of liquidity, more than one third of the fund is invested in assets that will mature in 30 days.

Investment Outlook

Our cash and income funds are well positioned for the current hiking cycle, as we largely hold floating rate instruments which will all reset their interest rate coupons to the new higher rate within the next few weeks and months. This will serve as much needed relief to income investors following the deep interest rate cuts sustained at the height of the Covid-19 outbreak.

DISCLAIMER

Unit trusts are generally medium to long-term investments. The value of your investment may go down as well as up. Past performance is not necessarily a guide to future performance. Nedgroup Investments does not guarantee the performance of your investment and even if forecasts about the expected future performance are included you will carry the investment and market risk, which includes the possibility of losing capital. Our funds are traded at ruling prices and can engage in borrowing and scrip lending.

Some funds may hold foreign securities including foreign CIS funds. As a result, the fund may face material risks, which could include foreign exchange risks, market conditions and macro-economic and political conditions.

A fund of funds may only invest in other funds, and a feeder fund may only invest in another single fund, both will have funds that levy their own charges, which could result in a higher fee structure.

The Nedgroup Investments Money Market Fund offering aims to maintain a constant price of 100 cents per unit. A money market fund is not a bank deposit. The total return to the investor is made up of interest received and any gain or loss made on any particular instrument held. In most cases the return will merely have the effect of increasing or decreasing the daily yield, but in an extreme case it can have the effect of a capital loss. Excessive withdrawals from the fund may place the fund under liquidity pressures and that in such circumstances a process of ring-fencing of withdrawal instructions and managed pay-outs over time may be followed. The yield is calculated using an annualised seven day rolling average as at the relevant dates provided for in the fund fact sheet. Nedgroup Investments has the right to close its funds to new investors in order to manage it more efficiently.
